BULLETIN

This Day in Yale History, 2002

November 21, 2002 / Local young Democrats raise support

By Erica Youngstrom

Despite recent elections that favored Republicans nationwide, some New Haven Democrats are not wasting any time in preparing for the next round.

About 70 local Democrats gathered at Neat Lounge on Temple Street Wednesday night. They were there in support of the Greater New Haven Young Democrats, or GNHYD, a group which seeks mainly to increase political participation among people between the ages of 18 and 34 and to support young candidates and raise political awareness.

Guests included Democratic politicians from various parts of Connecticut as well as community members and Yale students interested in the GNYD. While the event was partly a fund-raiser, its main goal was to provide an opportunity for guests to network and learn about the organization's mission.

Cory Needle

Behind the Headline

By Brody Gilkison

This summer, when a new rule that would allow Ivy League teams to play in the postseason passed, I knew this football season would be a rollercoaster ride from start to finish. With the mass exodus of graduating seniors and transfers, the team looked very different from last year's. The excitement was palpable among some of the newer players right from the jump. Instead of the same old goals of playing for a conference championship and beating the team from the north, Team 152 would have a chance to make history, and these players had zero doubt in their ability to accomplish their goals.

In every game, I hear players say they're playing "Yale vs Yale." The idea is that as long as they execute everything correctly and control what they can control, no opposing team, no matter their ranking, will stop them from reaching their full potential. When Saturday rolls around, it'll still be Yale vs Yale for Team 152, and with some luck, the 'Dogs may come out on top.

Read "Yale, Harvard battle for Ivy League title" on PAGE B2.

Corrections

- An article on Nov. 14 about the Yale police chief departing to lead Harvard's police department misstated the organization Yale recently established a new contract with. The University recently established a new contract with the Yale Police Benevolent Association, the police union, not the Yale Police Department.

CROSSWORD

BY JACK BERRIEN

Clues

ACROSS
1. Bring together
6. First lady?
9. Big name in fashion
14. "Let's call it ____"
19. Aspect
20. Big number for Hamilton?
21. Home run leader before Bonds
22. Strategic chess move, maybe
23. Detroit's wannabe king?*
26. Author Gore
27. ___-la-la
28. Serpent
29. Happy jump
31. Needles' counterpart
32. Buddy
35. Golf's Ernie
37. Chicago's honey lover?*
41. Sulfuric, e.g.
43. Billy ___ Williams
45. Landlocked Asian country
46. Most weekend baseball games
47. New York's gentle monster?*
50. Try out
52. Rhone tributary
55. feeling, maybe
56. Long-term goal of Sam Altman, others
57. Surveillance org.
58. Uncontaminated
59. Tampa's drunken swindler?*
66. Shakespeare's fairy queen
69. Poet's preposition
70. German luxury car
71. First try, perhaps
72. Some girders
75. Moves in the spotlight?
76. Short pants
77. Prognosticates
79. Eastern ruler
80. Era indicator
82. Play part
83. New Orleans' disillusioned priest?*
88. Lake bordering Cleveland
89. Accused, in brief
90. Prior to
91. "Yes, ____!"
95. JFK predecessor
96. Small, slippery slowpoke
98. Dallas' Searcher?*
102. Baseball Hall of Famer ___Wee Reese
103. Angel Reese lg.
104. Apr. season
105. Type of twister, perhaps 106. Minnesota's larger-than-life leader?*
112. Antonio or Diego?
114. Ab's neighbor
115. Frost
116. Litigator
117. Number two
119. Dove's call
121. Gillette options
123. Unreal fall competition? (And a hint to all the starred clues)
130. Certain races
131. Halloween option
132. Big bird?
133. Hot drink
134. German seaport
135. Play like George Harrison, say
136. German article
137. Hundred: prefix

DOWN
1. Back
2. ___-jongg
3. High card
4. Branch
5. Hold onto
6. LAX guess
7. Action word
8. Provide (with)
9. Cheery
10. Delta rival, abbr.
11. Time to panic
12. R&B's Sam
13. Brit's "Right?"
14. Off-roader, briefly
15. Like messy paint
16. Queen's" _____ Ga Ga"
17. Hersey's town
18. Like Catherine Zeta-Jones
24. Prominent person of interest
25. Undefeated boxer Ali
30. High degrees
32. Brady bunch?
33. Hurt
34. Legal claim
36. Domain of Sanders, McConnell
38. Grannie
39. Negation operator
40. Leave no crumbs?
42. Record
44. Type of moth
48. English river
49. Big three in Rome?
50. Sound of disapproval
51. Direction missing from any U.S. state?
52. Night light
53. Sarcastic
54. Latest
57. CBS military drama
58. Many a boarding school
60. Performative type
61. Tennis star Osaka
62. Andrews of "Mary Poppins"
63. Decorate
64. Indiana hooper
65. Moniker predecessor
66. Ticked off
67. Descriptor of some riders
68. Wodehouse character Wooster
73. Tennis legend Ashe
74. Damon role in "We Bought a Zoo"
75. ____ Club
78. SoCal school
80. Homes of some chickens
81. Weirdos
84. Summertime mo.
85. Mauna ____
86. "How cute!"
87. Baseball divider
92. "Shoot!"
93. Carpenter's tool
94. Very small time interval (abbr.)
96. Small time interval (abbr.)
97. Albanian coins
98. P.O. item
99. Unknown, un a sched.
100. Door fasteners
101. Nemesis of Harry and Ron
102. Stream illegally
103. German physicist Heisenberg
106. "How dare you!"
107. Tribal emblem
108. Steered a rowboat
109. Home of the Jumbos
110. Tin Man's desire
111. Played with
113. Creator of Minecraft
118. "You want a piece _____?"
120. Woodwind instrument
122. IRS ID
124. Greek letter symbolizing torque
125. Money maker?
126. Possessive pronoun
127. NCAA powerhouse
128. Garage alternative