McGivney Center Exhibits Celebrate America's 250th Anniversary

Pictured: The exhibition In God We Trust: The Knights of Columbus and the American Experience includes over a hundred artifacts from the collection at the Blessed Michael McGivney Pilgrimage Center, as well as loans from several Connecticut cultural institutions.

New Haven: As the United States approaches its 250th anniversary on July 4, the Blessed Michael McGivney Pilgrimage Center, formerly the Knights of Columbus Museum, marks this historic milestone with a slate of three exhibitions.

In God We Trust: The Knights of Columbus and the American Experience (Open through September 5, 2027): This featured exhibition explores a U.S.-born institution and how the history of the United States shaped the Order's development into the global institution it is today. Since 1882, the Knights of Columbus has been dedicated to the promotion and defense of the rights of "Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness" for all Americans, in accordance with its Catholic values. The exhibit shares how the Knights have persevered in improving society through its core principles of Charity, Unity, Fraternity, and Patriotism.

American Saints and Blesseds (Open through September 27, 2026): Among the Catholic Litany there are 14 canonized and 7 beatified who lived or ministered in the United States or its territories. By the end of 2026, Archbishop Fulton Sheen and the Georgia Martyrs will join the ranks of the beatified. This supplemental exhibit highlights the virtuous lives of these individuals who the Catholic Church recognizes as intercessors and models of holiness.

Hagaman Memorial Library

JOIN HAGAMAN'S CROCHET CLUB!

Visit the Hagaman Library on Tuesday evenings at 6pm and enjoy the library's Crochet Club!

Illustrating America: Columbia Magazine Covers (Open through September 6, 2026): From 1921 until 1988, Columbia, the monthly magazine of the Knights of Columbus, featured illustrated covers. Over this period of nearly seven decades, more than 70 different illustrators contributed cover art that rivaled illustrations created by Norman Rockwell for The Saturday Evening Post.

If you know basic stitching for crochet, but wish to hone the craft and receive more guidance, this is the club for you!

The class will be taught by experienced crochet artist Claire Carrano.

Most materials will be provided, however, if you have materials at home (such as crochet hooks or a special yarn you prefer to use) please feel free to bring them along.

Registration is required. There is a limit of 15. To register, please contact Cynthia, Community Services Librarian, at cgwiazda@hagamanlibrary.org. If the class becomes full, there will be a waiting list.

Community Services Hosting Equipment and Supplies Drive to Benefit North Haven Animal Control

The Town of North Haven Department of Community Services is reaching out to the community for assistance in providing essential supplies and equipment for the dogs and cats currently in the care of North Haven Animal Control. As the number of animals entering the shelter continues to increase, so does the need for specialized equipment, daily care items, and enrichment supplies.

Community Services is seeking monetary donations to help purchase critical items needed by the shelter, including a large Zinger aluminum dog crate and a large Impact collapsible heavy-duty dog crate. These specialized crates provide safe and secure housing for animals in the shelter's care and represent some of the shelter's most significant equipment needs.

In addition to these larger purchases, the shelter is seeking support for a variety of animal care supplies, including kennel pads, kitten feeding supplies, puppy pads, toys, treats, and specialized tools used in the daily care and safe handling of animals.

The donation drive will take place throughout the month of July. Donations made through this effort will directly support the care, comfort, safety, and enrichment of animals awaiting adoption or reunification with their families. Every contribution, regardless of size, helps ensure that North Haven Animal Control can continue providing quality care to vulnerable animals in our community.

A wish list of requested items is available through Amazon: https://www.amazon.com/registries/gl/owner-view/UOYSO93DYWKP

If you are interested in donating or have any questions about specific items needed, please contact Carla Picard in Community Services at (203) 239-5321 x8504. Checks can be made payable to the Treasurer, Town of North Haven and mailed to the attention of North Haven Animal Control, Memorial Town Hall, 18 Church Street, North Haven, CT 06473.

Donations can also be dropped off at the Community Services office located at 5 Linsley St. weekdays between 9am-4pm.
